

November 6, 1975

Mr. George Moran
Workman Publishing Company
231 East 51st Street
New York, New York 10022

Dear Mr. Moran:

Your cartoon series on eggs is absolutely priceless. Whatever possessed you to see the seminal and primeval role of the egg in our culture?

I have nothing against the egg, but the Egg Council apparently has something against me, and because of a recent subpoena of my personal writing and investigations I took refuge from my frustrations in the enclosed satire, which may or may not amuse you.

Cordially,

Henry Blackburn, M.D.

HB:jp
cc: Workman Publishing Company

enclosure

*Alvin Grandey
& pc of letter to Publ. Co.*