Dear Cam:

Many thanks for your delightful comments. I recently obtained the "corrected" cholesterol contents for shellfish and lobster for my testimony at the FTC-Egg hearing and was happy to see them.

In regard to the egg battle, the lack of an AHA Medical Director really showed. They let themselves be subpoenaed, and they resisted for months any consideration of moral or other support for those of us they had committed to harassment, etc. Finally, due to Council on Epidemiology pressure, the new Steering Committee achieved a more active posture. I survived two days in the witness chair last week and found it an informative if wearing adventure.

Yes, it is interesting that Dick Ross has become outspoken on issues he once regarded as inconsequential!

I am inclined to attribute the European Journal week to the papyrus, but I will certainly inquire of, and tease, Fritz Meijler!

Regards,

Henry Blackburn, M.D.
