Dear Henry,

I can't find at the moment the letter you sent a long time ago but I recall that your question was whether we have made advanced statistical analyses on the Finnish material. This has been our ultimate goal but so far nothing has been done. We have "everything" on tape but have lacked the energy - or whatever you may call it - to do the work.

I very much enjoyed your "paper" on black bass fishing. It is a real artistic performance. I took the liberty of giving copies to Matti Romo and Pentti Halonen (who often goes fishing with Urho Kekkonen). Incidentally, since several years I have been nursing the idea of writing a book of bird photography. But this may belong to that group of dreams that never become true. Even running is asking more and more of the spare energy.

Best Regards,

Sven Punsar
