Dear Henry,

At last pen to paper, to Thank you for your very appreciative letter about Donald. I was very deeply touched by your sentence — "his personal concern and support for "his men in wherever", as many of us were honored to be." — I always feel myself that Donald's care for others was very basic in his nature — he wasn't a ruthless man.
Thank you for confirming my view of Linn. Your letter was a great comfort to me in my ordeal.

Yours very sincerely,
Christina
