Dear Lee and Donna:

The enclosed "Egghead Sextet" is for your dancing pleasure. The idea, of course, is playfulness.

Please don't forget Dave Paquette, the house pianist par excellence at the Pioneer Inn on Maui. A very special mad person.

Congratulations on your new life and career. I'm sure you have a feeling of satisfaction for the last decade and anticipation for the next. It will be nice to have you as a colleague.

Regards,

Henry Blackburn

HB Remarks at Lee and Donna Stauffer Dinner

Lee Stauffer is a gentleman; a gentleman characterized by fairness and by virtue (and I don't think he would be embarrassed to have that called what it is, Christian Virtue), by deliberativeness, by diplomacy, by vigor, by toughness, by sensitivity, by irreverence, humor, joie de vivre, and playfulness. Certainly, he is all of these things. He also can be foot dragging when it's smart to be, and an advocate when it's important to be.

I would like to express my wishes for his post-resignation renaissance, though my wishes are not important. Much more important are those of Donna, and Donna says, "he gets better every day since his announcement."

Lee, now that you're descended from on high and can join the mortals, and now that you have rid yourself of the armor and aura of power, maybe you will no longer be embarrassed not to be quite a Jango Reinhart, so you can join the rest of us mortals in the Christmas Party band.
