Dear Joe:

I don't know how the bad news network broke down. I didn't learn of your bad, then good news, until a council meeting with John Ross last week. One never knows what a day holds in store. I'm terribly glad that cervical cord was only shocked or bruised. How did you think about and weigh the future as quadriplegic?

The best to you and Rita -

Cordially,

Henry Blackburn, M.D.

P.S. I've been inordinately preoccupied with the enclosed stupidity, but have now done my part at the hearing. The parody was to relieve frustration.
