My dear Henry:

I have your letter of January 16th and I am intrigued by your phrase, "Why not join the paramedical effort". Do you have any ideas how I can be of any help. Please let me know.

What I propose to do is to be near my children and grandchildren now that I am in the sere and yellow of my life. However, it is my aim not to be inactive in any sense, so if you have any ideas or propositions, please let me know. As you know, I will be leaving here about March 15th.

Kindest personal regards.

Sincerely,

Harry E. Ungerleider, M.D.

Dear Harry:

I had hoped to see you in New Orleans again. This time again, between conferences, we had lots of good music and fellowship.

Retail Credit Company is moving definitely, though slowly, toward an effective professional organization to direct para-medical services. This will include a full-time medical director, and I hope one with insurance experience. Any ideas who might be interested? I do believe it should be full time.

Cordially,

Henry Blackburn, M.D.
