Dear Henry:

Well, we are now back in Ventura and contemplating the events of the past week with it's highlight - the dinner for me at the Disneyland Hotel.

I shall forever be in your debt for being the person who originated & carried thru the idea of the dinner. I know that it took considerable time & effort and I am duly grateful.

Anaheim was not the best place in this world to hold such an affair for one since most of my friends are from the East and Mid-West and many are not cardiologists who would be attending the meetings of the American Heart Association. Never-the-less, it was heart warming to see those who did attend and to receive letters & telegrams from many who could not. It was a marvelous and satisfying evening.

I hope we can get together someplace real soon to discuss anything of interest to both of us. My schedule from now on will be less & less - but should you come to California - let me know & I will drive up to San Francisco or to Los Angeles or where - used to see you

This letter is a clumsy attempt to thank you for everything - I am not especially gifted in that direction - but I want you to know that I value your friendship and to say thanks for everything.

My best to you always

As ever

Henry
