Dear Sir/Madam:

This is my personal viewpoint, centrally involved in public health and cardiovascular diseases, that labelling of sodium, saturated fat and cholesterol content of foods should be required for all processed foods, and at the very least on foods with nutrition labelling.

I am acting in my private capacity rather than in my position as a member of the Nutrition Committee of the American Heart Association. The opinion of that committee and that association has already been strongly voiced in this regard.

Sincerely,

Henry Blackburn, M.D.
Professor and Director
Professor of Medicine
