Dear Lena:

Thank you for your warm letter that awaited our return from Italy a few days ago. It did seem to us that you were enjoying things at Anacapri and those few hours in the Cilento on Saturday, but it is nice to have you tell us so.

After the aliscafo left the Kimuras, Rafael Carmena and our son stayed on for a bit but I had to drive Henry and "Raffa" to the airport in Naples on Sunday and by Wednesday the house was empty until I brought Bill Parlin and his wife back from the hospital on Sunday. He mended for a week and two days. After they left we took off for Minneapolis via Naples, Milan and Lisbon. We had planned to stay a day in Lisbon, where we have old friends, but we stayed three before our bags caught up with us!

Anyway, we are now catching up on fatigue and remembering many pleasant things in those days at Anacapri and before and after when the villa was full of guests. Mario Mancini did a great job organizing the meetings. For us the best was meeting so many old friends, some of whom we had not seen for years and years. It was a joy to see you again and, with you, to recall the symposium here in Minneapolis 29 years ago!

Margaret and I both send all good wishes and thanks for being with us in Italy.

Sincerely,

Ancel Keys
