Dear Zdenek:

Thank you for your nice note about the Anacapri meetings and the all-too-hasty visit to our home in what not long ago was <sup>considered as</sup> ~~known as~~ "Italia sconosciuto."

Mario Mancini did a marvelous job of organizing both the professional and social parts of the four days. Both before and after the meetings we had house guests so it was a busy and happy time. Now we are back in Minnesota until the end of August. Then we'll be at our "Minnelea" until late November except for a week off to drive to Lugano for the symposium there. In the meantime there is much work to do, calculating and writing, so when we get to Minnelea again I'll revel in at least half of each day in the ~~xx~~ gardens.

Thanks for being with us during a memorable period. With all good wishes,

Ancel Keys
