Dear Henry;

Per our conversation last Friday, attached is the draft manuscript of our review on the effects of feeding eggs to animals and man. I have edited the first half of the animal work, and -- except for adding a brief account on a few key studies not covered -- it is reasonably complete; the second half remains to be edited thoroughly, and needs addition of a few data sets.

Please therefore regard this as for your information, confidential, and not for publication.

I would appreciate any comments and suggestions you may have.

All the best.

Cordially,

Jeremiah Stamler, M.D.
