This is a note to thank you for relieving me when I was anxious to step down last year and for the yeoman work you have done on some tough issues. You have obviously experienced now the stresses of responsibility and become aware of the needs for "excessive" communications.

At any rate, I am grateful and I am particularly sorry about the recent event of my over-reaction to being excluded from one communication. You have done a great job and I hope it wasn't an entirely negative experience for you.

Thanks for the kind note. I have no hard feelings about our one moment of disagreement. Your support during my Interim was excellent and most helpful.
