Dear Professor W h i t e ,

Dr. POKORNY has recently arrived from Italy, most enthusiastic about wonderful opportunity that had been offered to him, thanks to you, to be able to study modern epidemiological methods. He was very happy to have been so kindly received by Prof. FIDANZA and his collaborators in MONTEGIORGIO, where the field operations were being realised.

As you may recall the Czechoslovak Heart Association has already offered to organise a meeting of the Research Committee under the patronage of the International Cardiology Foundation in our country next year. I should be very happy if you would be able to visit us and discuss other possibility of international cooperation in epidemiological research of cardiovascular diseases.

Thanking you very much for your very great kindness, please accept my warmest personal regards.

Sincerely yours,

Z. Reiniš
