Dear Ancel:

We also were shocked by the sudden death of Gottsegen. As I recall, he had a wife and I am quite sure that I met her when I was in Budapest a couple of years ago. I shall write to her.

I am quite sure that Howard Sprague would approve of a grant for a second Hungarian.

I hesitate to recommend Lamm's extradition. I think he may be more useful in the world if he stays on the job in Hungary despite his desire to leave. This reminds me somewhat of our old problems with trainees coming to the USA and wanting to stay.

I will be interested in having your reply to Florence's recent letter about the report from Crete which was published in the March number of the AMERICAN JOURNAL OF CARDIOLOGY.

Best wishes to you all.

Sincerely yours,

Paul White
