Dear Henry:

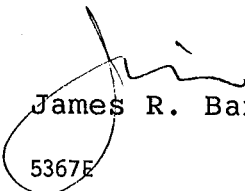

Many thanks for On the Trail of Heart Attacks in Seven Countries. What an outstanding personal memoir/scientific treatise in a single package! Thank you also for bringing Jocko and, once again, for your many other personal contributions to Owlery Camp and the Encampment. New Orleans is at its best when you bring it to our deck.

We all wish you could have stayed longer, but I certainly understand the call of children and grandchildren.

Please work in an off-season trip to our part of the world if you can.

In the meantime, our thanks again and warmest regards.

Sincerely,

James R. Bancroft
