This is to give permission for use of the quotation from my letter to Dr. Ancel Keys about the book by Keys and Keys, "Eat Well and Stay Well", published by Doubleday and Company, Inc. It is understood that this quotation will not be made public separately from other quotations from letters from physicians and medical scientists, that my name will not be identified as representing any organization or official position, and that I shall have the privilege of review of the full copy of any contemplated public disclosure of these quotations.

N.B. My small comment was unsolicited and I'm glad to have you use it for what it's worth.

Warmest regards

Carl
