Dear Bill:

Enclosed are quotes from some of the many doctors who have written me about "Eat Well and Stay Well". These are typical and I have received no adverse comments from responsible physicians or medical scientists though certain commercial interests are unhappy.

I should like to make this material available to our colleagues and the interested public. May I have your permission? A form and self-addressed envelope are enclosed for your convenience. These quotes are personal opinions and no reference should be made to the organizations with which the individuals are affiliated. Further, if this material is to be used it would be as a batch and no undignified propaganda would be attached.

Just how this material would be used is not decided as yet. Possible forms are as a broadsheet to be available to booksellers, etc., or printed on the inside of the jacket of the book. This material may be particularly useful in connection with the forthcoming foreign editions -- British, Finnish, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish, etc. If you wish an actual copy of the form in which it is to be used it could be supplied for your final approval.

With many thanks for your interest,

This is fine -
Bill Dock

Sincerely,

Ancel Keys, Director
