

CORRETT-HARPER

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURAL AND LIFE SCIENCES

Department of Biochemistry
420 Henry Mall
Madison, Wisconsin 53706 USA
Telephone: 608/262-3026/262-3040

September 7, 1982

Dr. Henry Blackburn
Laboratory of Physiological Hygiene
Stadium Gate 27
611 Beacon Street S.E.
Minneapolis, MN 55455

Correct.

Dear Henry:

Thank you very much for the book and for the other material you sent me on strategies for prevention of major diseases in industrialized societies. I appreciate having this as I believe the best comes from vigorous interaction among people of different viewpoints. I, too, enjoyed the opportunity to exchange ideas in Mexico. I wish we had had a little more time for free and open discussion.

Our arrangements worked out well in the Yucatan. We were able to see several of the best ruins. Along with that, I shall remember well the evening with you and your saxophone.

Sincerely,

A. E. Harper

jat