Dear Nedra:

You can be glad you are not here for more reasons than five or six. For the first time in my experience, we are having to lay people off due to the rapidly cumulative effect of inflation and cutbacks. It is not a happy time. On the other hand, the Lab is going to make it and is going to come out probably stronger on the other side with improved efficiency. Besides that, it is awfully doggone cold up here.

I think I have mentioned to you that Larry Rowell and I have been talking for several years about having something in honor of Henry Taylor. I am not sure if you got the first memorandum on it. This is the second one, and I invite your immediate comments by phone, if possible, concerning the scientific program, if you have any additions, deletions, or comments.

With respect to the invitees to the program and to the banquet, I am sure you will have many suggestions which do not need to be provided urgently, but I would like to have a note from you before long on this before I sent out invitations. There are probably people from the older times and railroad days that I haven't thought about. Obviously there are a whole raft of people in the Twin Cities that I haven't thought about. I am counting on Cay Taylor to provide me with names. To the current list I have already added MacDonell Richards, Dr. McLeod, and Dr. Rotenberg, but I am sure you will have other ideas. We are about to focus on the Town and Country Club, where we had your affair, and if you have any better suggestions, please also give me a buzz on this. I'll be home all this month.

Cordially,

Henry Blackburn, M.D.
