Dear Henry:

We have only today received the pink sheets of the Site Visit team to the Minnesota Community Prevention Program. I am most grateful for the skills and energy brought to bear in this review and its exposition in the pink sheets. What the Advisory Council will do remains to be seen, but this is to let you know our immense appreciation of the hard work and good that went into this. The suggestions throughout will strengthen our undertaking.

Entirely parenthetically I enclose "concluding remarks" which I refrained from making due to our general exhaustion at the close of your visit.

Cordially,

Henry Blackburn, M.D.
Professor and Director
