Dear Bryce:

Many thanks for the Chamberlin reprint.

I don't think the new Diet Health report will raise that much fuss. I believe it will be solid and it has some useful new contributions on criteria for translating evidence into action. I'm responsible for an interesting part that deals with estimates for overall public health impact of the recommended diet change, including adverse effects.

The night one goes to Preservation Hall during the week is critical. Wednesday and Saturday are still the Percy Humphrey Band, the best. Sunday night is to be avoided at all costs. In between it's chancy. The management is holding up pretty well, but we all miss Jaffe's artistic touch.

Cordially,

Henry Blackburn, M.D.
Professor and Director
