Dear Bob:

Your recent discussion of blood lipids in Epidemiological Reviews and your editorial (in press) on surveillance have been most useful summaries. We are grateful for the attention you've given our MHS program. You will be happy to hear that it is under the new management of Greg Burke. We look forward to a productive year of tying things together and then reconsideration about what, if anything, should go forward in surveillance. I appreciate the time and thought that you have given to this undertaking.

Cordially,

Henry Blackburn (inf)
