Dear Dr. Blackburn:

I thought you would be interested in the outcome of the Secretary's Award for Innovations in Health Promotion and Disease Prevention. I was awarded the third prize of $1000 and will fly to Washington on July 14 to participate in the award ceremony. I have enclosed copies of the notification letters.

I am pleased to tell you that I successfully defended my dissertation on May 22. I have already written to Dr. Prineas to extend praise of the graduate program in your department. I learned a great deal, had many opportunities for professional growth, was always encouraged to do my best work. I experienced a flexible attitude on the part of faculty and administrators which made it possible to complete a degree in my unique commuter situation. I was very satisfied with my doctoral program and would especially like to praise the work of Rebecca Mullis. She did an outstanding job as advisor.

I hope your trip was most pleasurable.

Sincerely,

Susan J. Crockett, Ph.D.
