Dear Sandra, Russell and Benjie:

I think about this time last year, when you and your family were so close together. I hope that you're having a warm time despite missing Allan. Please add these couple of relaxed poses to your countless photographs of your husband and father and our friend.

We look forward to The Humphrey Band being here on the afternoon of March 13. I am very much hoping that you'll come the day before and stay the day after, at least. Spend the weekend with us! It's my turn to have a party at my house, which I look forward to. I would also be happy to keep any part of the family or band that would like to stay as we have two pleasant guest rooms, one of them a private apartment.

I just finished the insets on Bill Carter's book and find them delightful, but I haven't yet seen the main text. Thinking of you. Love to all.
