Dear Maureen:

It was good to get a glimpse of you at UCLA. I am sorry that Katia and I arrived at the Hutch picnic late, about 1:30, and apparently missed you by only a few minutes. We had a pleasant visit with Neil Bracht and Bob Day and a few others.

Katia is happy in her work and I am sure she will learn much and move forward with it in the next period. I am infinitely grateful for your kindnesses to her.

I was both interested and distressed to read the Seattle Weekly account of the Hutch. I am sure we can all learn a lot from it. Through all the smoke one can see the fire of an extremely vigorous and successful intellectual enterprise.

Cordially,

Henry Blackburn, MD
Professor and Director
