Dear Gerry:

If the Seven Countries Book had been written as well as your review, it would be an even better "read".

To stick away in your information file, Geoffrey Rose would surely say he had almost nothing to do with developing the Minnesota Code. He had a great deal to do with its dissemination and in training non-technical people to use it. His great contribution and our joint contribution, was the WHO Manual on Cardiovascular Disease Surveys.

Many thanks for your marvelous review. Here's to new adventures.

Cordially,

Henry Blackburn, MD
Mayo Professor of Public Health
